ABOUT US

WHO WE ARE !

MadTrek Adventures is an Indian subcontinent adventure tour outfitter. Located in admist of Great Himalayan Range operates by an avid mountaineer, a mountain climber "Kailash Bhatia" and a nature lover, an adviser "Abhinav Verma" who operates all kind of ground operations. Both dedicated their entire life to explore the remote locations of the Great Himalayas through hiking and trekking.

WHY MADTREK ?

We prefer to do things differently keeping in mind safety, comfort & pleasure of our trekkers at highest priority. We strongly believe in preserving the brilliance we proudly call our home & do not welcome anyone who litters around & doesn't respect the notion of loving nature so it can love you back. We make the travelers see this world with our own eyes & leave them spellbound with the magnificence of nature which the outside world considers to be wild. So pack your bags & let us take you to a majestically incredible experience which will introduce you to a new you..

DETAILED ITINERARY

Day 1 - Drive from Dehradun to Sankri

Reporting Location - Prince Chown, Near Railway Station (Dehradun)
Reporting Time - 06:00 AM to 09:00 AM daily

The trip to Sankri, which is situated on National Highway 123, is worth it. Traveling by car from Dehradun to Sankri is over 200 km via Mussoorie, and you'll pass through some breathtaking valleys and woods.

In about 22 kilometers before reaching Sankri, hikers will see breathtaking views of the Himalayas and lush vegetation. Govind National Park, famous for its abundant plant life, is also nearby. Some of the flora in this park can be found nowhere else in the country.

Day 3 - Trekking from "Juda-ka-Talab" to the base of Kedarkantha

- The trek to Kedar Kantha base begins with a stunning sunrise, leaving trekkers speechless. The base is located at an elevation of 3,400 meters (11,250 ft) above sea level.

- The journey from Jadu Ka Talab to Kedar Kantha Base covers a distance of over 4 kilometers, taking approximately 2.5 hours at a brisk pace. Jadu Ka Talab is a picturesque frozen lake surrounded by pine trees, offering adventure opportunities for trekkers.

- As you ascend, the trail becomes steeper, and your hike leader will instruct you on navigating snowy terrain. The path winds through pine and oak groves, and at 10,400 feet, you'll be rewarded with snow-covered vistas of magnificent mountains, including Bandarpoonch, Kala Nag, Swargarohini, and Ranglana. Dinner is served in the comfort of your tents at the base camp.

Day 4 - Early Morning trek to Kedarkantha's summit and return

Since you'll be climbing Kedar Kantha on day 4, you should expect a rather long day. Today you will hike almost 6 kilometres (from 12,500 feet to 11,250 feet) over the course of 7 hours. You should be aware that the trail will be more challenging because of this.

The trek offers breathtaking natural scenery and views of various mountain ranges, including the Rupin. The peak, originally intended for the Kedarnath temple, was named Kedar Kantha due to a local legend involving divine intervention when constructing the temple.

Kedar Kantha provides awe-inspiring vistas of Bandarpooch, Kalanaag, Swargarohini, Gangotri, and Yamunotri. Reaching the peak offers a profound emotional experience amid the stunning scenery.

After reaching the summit, the trek proceeds back to the Juda-Ka-Talab camp, where you will spend the night. The campsite offers spectacular views of the surrounding valleys and natural beauty, allowing you to relish the tranquility of the outdoors.

DETAILED ITINERARY

Day 5 - Trek to Sankri and departure from Sankri to Dehradun

- On day five of the trek, hikers will begin their descent from Juda-Ka-Talab Camp to Sankri. The day starts at an altitude of 8,900 feet and descends to 6,400 feet. The hike covers a distance of 6.2 kilometers and typically takes about 4 hours at a leisurely pace.
- This day marks the farewell to the majestic Himalayas and other snowy mountain ranges as the group returns to Sankri. The relatively short distances between checkpoints make the journey less physically demanding.
- After having breakfast, trekkers will pack their belongings and follow a paved route leading to Sankri, where the trek initially began.
- The journey continues as you travel 220 kilometers from Sankri to Dehradun, which typically takes around 10 hours. Departing in the morning, you should aim to arrive in Dehradun in the late afternoon, ideally between 7 and 8 pm. This allows you to make any necessary reservations for your onward journey and provides time to reflect on the memories of your trek as you head back to Dehradun.
